

Leafhopper

Family: Cicadellidae

With more than 3000 species north of Mexico, leafhoppers can be tough to find a name for. Especially when they move before you get close. This is likely a Candy-striped leafhopper Graphocephala coccinea like the one below.

They are in the order Homoptera with cicadas, spittlebugs, aphids and scale insects.

By Kasandra Lambert